Senior Housing May Have To Wait

Antioch Revises Subdivision Rules

By BETSY ROSSEN

It appears that senior citizen housing in Antioch will be delayed until next fall and that such a development may include non-elderly housing.

At Monday's meeting of the village board, plan commission chairman Ken Wierschem told the mayor and trustees that preliminary proposals for U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) housing assistance payments must be submitted on or before Jan. 10.

THE PROPERTY IN QUESTION, 3.8 acres at 701 Main St., is owned by Alice Young. She and developer Edward Palmer hope to build two three-story buildings housing 120 one-bedroom units.

However, HUD has changed the laws concerning federally-assisted housing. Proposals for newly-constructed elderly and handicapped units must be in accordance with one of the following alternatives:

1. Non-elderly units may be provided on the same site in an amount equal to at least 20 percent of the elderly units proposed, with at least 30 percent of the non-elderly units having no less than three bedrooms.

2. Non-elderly units may be provided on another site or sites in an amount equal to at least 40 percent of the elderly units proposed. Again, at least 30 percent of the non-elderly housing must have no less than three bedrooms.

Wierschem reported that Palmer is out of the state at this time and not available for comment. Mrs. Young filed a petition to the zoning board of

Commission Terms Year Successful

With the celebration of Illinois' 158th birthday last Friday, state and local bicentennial festivities officially came to a close.

On Tuesday, Nov. 30, the Antioch Bicentennial Commission held its final meeting, followed by a reception, and slides and movies of the community's events.

Due to the success of Antioch's celebration, many commissioners have decided to join the Antioch Historical Society. Because 1977 is the 85th anniversary of village incorporation, many feel the channelling of ideas, personnel and funds is a natural.

Reconstruction of the Hiram Buttrick sawmill on Sequoit Creek north of the village garage is the commission's final project, the administration of which will be taken over by the village and historical society.

Walt Shepard, superintendent of the public works and coordinator of mill construction, reported that July 4, 1977 is a "realistic date" for mill dedication ceremonies.

The historical society is also seeking to acquire the school district 34 storage building, located on Main and Depot streets. Reasons for such a facility include: acquisition and preservation of one of Antioch's historical buildings, housing for the historical society and provision of badly needed meeting rooms.

WAITING TO HANG ORNAMENTS on the village Christmas tree were Sandra Cunningham (left) and Julie Cunningham, who is held by her dad, Ron, a village of Antioch trustee. A sizeable crowd gathered at the village hall for the annual tree-lighting ceremony and caroling. Many children were on hand to help decorate the tree with their own ornaments. Dies in Snowmobile Accident

A Channel Lake man, Alexander Mecko, 38, died in a snowmobile accident last Thursday night.

Sheriff's deputies said Mecko apparently suffered a broken neck when his snowmobile hit a steel chain partitioning off the dock area of the Harbor Resort Marina, off Grass Lake Rd.

Mecko, who lived at Rt. 3, Box 236, Circle Drive, reportedly had gone snowmobiling at 10 p.m. Thursday. His body was found Friday.

Deputies said Mecko was following the Lake Marie shoreline when he struck the chain.

Obituary information appears elsewhere in today's paper.

FOUR PERSONS WERE INJURED Saturday in a head-on collision on Rt. 132, west of Rt. 45, near Lindenhurst.

They were Michael Burch, 19, of Gages Lake, one of the drivers, and his passenger, James Hrcniar, 19, of Lake Villa and Howard W. Krehemker, 58, of 1717 E. Grand Ave., Lake Villa, the other driver, and his wife, Marcella, 56.

All were listed in stable condition in St. Therese Hospital.

Krehemker was driving west to his home, and Burch the opposite direction, the sheriff's office said.

Deputies said the accident was still under investigation.

Burch was cited for transportation of liquor and improper lane usage.

A CHICAGO MAN, Richard Fox, 49, was injured while walking Sunday when he was struck by a hit and run car on Deep Lake Rd., south of White Rd. near Antioch.

Fox received first aid at St. Therese Hospital and was transferred to the Veterans Administration Hospital in North Chicago.

Fox said he was walking north on the west

Chain o' Lakes Group Focuses on Dredging

In a special meeting at the Antioch village hall last Friday, the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Commission heard the progress of its plans to dredge the chain.

The dredging is a long-term program to alleviate flooding along the chain and to aid fish and wildlife.

Don Vonnahme, assistant director of the state division of water resources, informed the commissioners of work to secure proper disposal or "Spoil" sites. Possibilities include Nett's island, an area behind the American Legion home, an area southwest of Rt. 12, an area southwest of the Grass Lake Rd. bridge and an area west of Crabapple Island.

The last two sites belong to the state department of conservation.

THE DIVISION OF WATER RESOURCES met last month with inspection teams from the department of conservation, U.S. Dept. of Sports, Fisheries and Wildlife, army corps of engineers, and state and federal environmental protection agencies (EPA).

The agencies' teams toured all sites, following an environmental assessment report by consultants to the division of water resources.

UNTIL LAST WEEK, the Chain commission

FOUR BRINKS CO. GUARDS were listed in stable condition after an accident last Friday morning at I-94 and Russell Rd. when their armored truck overturned and split open, strewn coins and currency in the snow.

The truck valued at $30,000 was declared a total loss.

The truck, making its regular run from Milwaukee to Chicago, slid on the ice-slicked interstate and plunged down an embankment. Deputies said it split in half.

The driver, Ernest Decker, of South Milwaukee, Charles Berger and Robert Berres, both of Milwaukee, and Raymond Materich, 60, of Oak Creek, Wis., were taken to St. Therese Hospital.

appeals on Dec. 2 to allow for construction of the development.

BY A VOTE OF 4-2, the village board passed a revised subdivision ordinance Monday. Work began on the update about three years ago.

The new requirements make greater demands on developers. Major changes include developers' contributions to schools and parks, types and widths of streets, and provision of utilities. In addition, minimum lot size has been increased from 60 ft. wide, (7,000 sq. ft.) to 70 ft. wide (8,750 sq. ft.).

Dissenting votes came from trustees Arnold Weber and Michael Haley. Haley voiced disapproval of the new lot size requirements.

IN OTHER ACTION, the resignation of trustee Diane "Willie" Rowley, effective Jan. 1, 1977, was accepted. The former Mrs. Schmidt married Edward Rowley of Antioch. The couple and their family plan to move to Minnesota in January.

Mayor Robert Wilton expressed the board's

The first item ever sold by what was to become the world's largest retailer—Sears, Roebuck and Co.—was a pocket watch. In 1886 Richard W. Roebuck. Together they made merchandising history.

Why Don't They Criticize Castro, Too?

Pick up a copy of any one of those American newspapers that most everyone agrees are "the majors" and you can spot the Olympian editorials at a glance.

First, their headlines set them apart. Their tone is marked by an air of moral certainty, and there are frequent invocations of "world opinion" (whatever that is).

The broadcast media aren't immune from the itch to dispense doses of morality through commentary, but the newspapers have been at it longer, and some of them have refined it to an art form as formal as a minuet.

NOT ALL EDITORIALISTS take themselves too seriously, of course, but some do, and these are the ones who seem to be most often quoted. Their moral tone is often marked by an odd double standard, too.

Take the subject of human rights, for example. There is much written about it, and surely it concerns everyone who breathes. But when it his terms. But from the pages of most U.S. newspapers, silence.

WHEN IT COMES TO Vietnam, the editorial moralists nod quickly in the direction of the families of servicemen missing in action over there, but then get on to what is really bothering them, namely, the United States' shocking rudeness and insensitivity to "world opinion" by voting against admission of communist Vietnam to the United Nations.

They usually manage to overlook the fact that Hanoi violated its own word in the Paris Peace Accords, invaded and ultimately overran its neighbor and then threw thousands of South Vietnamese into concentration camps where they languish today (unless they escape to Thailand and elsewhere, as a few do).

One can only guess at what makes up "world opinion" in this case, but I suspect it may be a handful of European newspapers.

comes to editorials on the subject, fingers are usually pointed in one direction, at the likes of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and, of course, South Korea. When was the last time you saw an editorial taking Fidel Castro to task for not allowing elections in Cuba or for prohibiting religious freedom?

There is also a good deal of editorial handwringing over United States arms sales to the Middle East. Sometimes it takes the form of roundly criticizing aid to any but the most rigorously democratic nations.

But, have you come across any editorial comment questioning the sales of U.S. military hardware to Omar Torrijos, the leftist military dictator of Panama? He censors his press, won't permit elections, has suspended civil rights and makes thinly disguised threats to sabotage the Panama Canal if we don't hand it over to him on

Sees Rise Of Alternate Fuels

WASHINGTON — A full range of domestic energy sources, for the most part now in the drawing board stage, will come into being in the U.S. if world oil prices keep rising, according to Robert C. Seamans, Jr., administrator of the Energy Research and Development Administration.

Such sources would include wind power, underground heat, solar heating and cooling and synthetic fuels.

Of these alternate energy sources, Mr. Seamans says, synthetic fuels—manufactured from coal, oil shale and even garbage—seem to offer the most potential in the short term, since the technology to develop them is essentially at hand.

When Wife Yells 'Haishu!' She Isn't Sneezin'

By JERRY PFARR

There was a time, Hollywood's historians assure us, when young ladies could flutter down the avenue with parasols twirling and the worst villains they might expect to encounter were men like Gordon MacRae (if they dared to ride on a carousel) or Robert Preston (if a music man came to town).

But, alas, today, the crime rate demands that damsels in distress be armed with something more than charm.

Perhaps this explains why only five women signed up for a charm course in my hometown while women's self-defense classes are crowded.

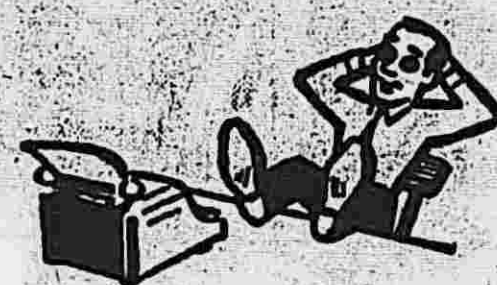

We overheard two men discussing the situation last week. Their conversation went something like this:

"My wife is taking a judo class for women," said the first, who had his arm in a sling.

"So is mine," said his neighbor.

"I told her," said the first man, "that it's

a waste of time. I read where she would need about 50 lessons before becoming expert enough to handle an assailant."

"Did she quit?"

"No, she let out a shrill yell, grabbed me by the left lapel and the right sleeve and threw me on the floor."

"What was the yell for?"

"Something she learned from the judo instructor. She said it freezes the adversary for a split second, making the toss easier."

"It worked, huh?"

"Yeah. Scared the daylight out of me."

"I wouldn't mind this judo kick," he added, "if she would just stop running around the house barefoot in that kimono with the white belt. Not only that, but she's been serving our meals on the floor."

"And the other day I came home from work and tried to kiss her, but she insisted I kneel and give the ceremonial bow."

"My wife wears a whistle around her neck," said the neighbor, "and she carries a long hatpin, a small baseball bat and a can of aerosol spray in her purse. She's armed to the teeth."

"She also bought a big, mean dog. 'Killer,' she calls him. She said she read that no woman has ever been attacked while walking a dog."

"That's silly," said the first man. "Any police officer will tell you that a woman's best weapon is a blood curdling scream."

"That's what I always say," said his neighbor. "When in danger, when in doubt, run in circles, scream and shout."

"It's getting to the point where it isn't safe for a man to walk the streets at night."

"Yeah, I'm not only afraid of the dog, but I'm beginning to be afraid of my wife."

"We have to do something. Why don't we take a course in karate? Wouldn't your wife be surprised? You could leap through the front door, smash a brick with one blow, yell 'Tsuki' or something, and assume a karate thrust stance, as if you were going to attack."

"Are you kidding? She'd probably throw me on the floor again."

Loan Review Officer Appointed by Bank

BONNIE EDER

You're a day ahead with The Antioch News!

Bonnie Eder has been named loan review officer at the First National Bank of Antioch.

The bank's president, L.M. Woods, said that Mrs. Eder, in her position in the loan department, has handled credit, installment loans, commercial loans and the preparation of real estate loans.

"As a result of her ability and experience in the various aspects of the department she has become invaluable as a supervisor of the department and in the documentation of all prepared loans. It was this ability that earned her the title of loan review officer," Mr. Woods said.

Mrs. Eder recently returned from the Independent Bankers Junior Officer Seminar held at Ball State University in Muncie, Ind.

She has also taken several courses from the American Institute of Banking. She is a 1963 graduate of Antioch Community High School and resides in Lake Villa with her husband, Joe, a son Mark, 13, and a daughter Tammy.

Mrs. Eder has been employed by the bank since October, 1969. She was hired as a teller and served in that position until January of 1972.

At that time she was transferred from the satellite facility of the bank to a clerical position in the loan department.

Attendance Record High at ACHS

Warren Polley, superintendent of the Antioch High School District, has congratulated parents and students "for the fine attendance record of the student body of Antioch Community High School."

"For the first two months of the year, we were again averaging between 94 and 95 percent attendance. This is a tribute to the importance given education by the community. I am confident that this emphasis on regular attendance will continue. The major positive result of this fine attendance record of our students will reflect in increased opportunity for learning," Mr. Polley said.

CHILE, TRYING TO pull itself back from the near-disastrous economics of Allende's Marxist regime (and, in the process, engaging in some tactics we would not condone), has hit upon a plan which may spike the incessant propaganda campaign waged against it by the communist world. At the same time it may give our own double-standard editorialists something to ponder.

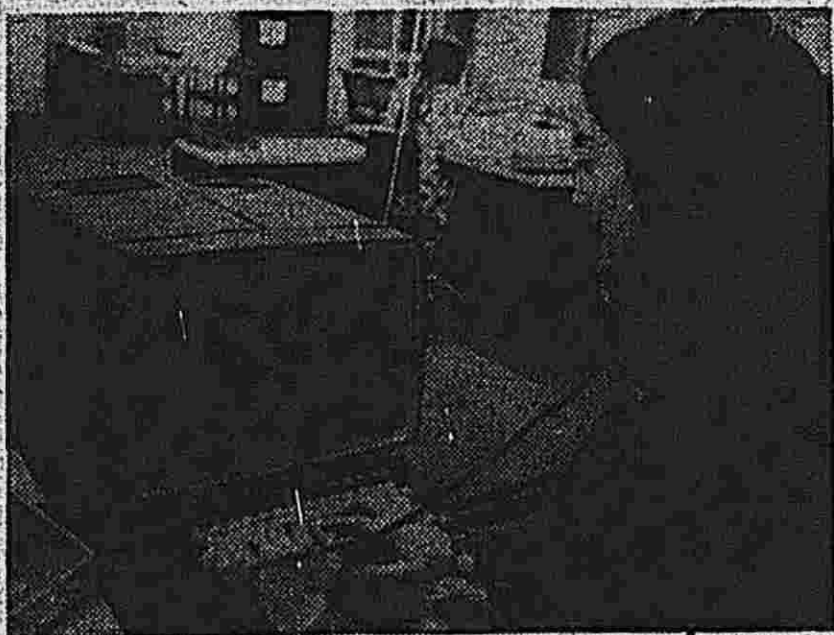

Recently, the Chilean government announced the freeing of some 320 political prisoners it no longer considered a threat. In addition, it said another 18 would go free, "subject to the sole condition that other countries could be found to receive them."

Two more (former top Communists associated with the Allende regime) would be released under more special conditions. Luis Cervalan would go free, they said, if the Soviet Union released Vladimir Bukovsky, a dissident biologist it had jailed. And, Jorge Montes would be free man if Castro would open the prison doors for his former comrade-in-arms who had turned against his regime, Hubert Matos.

Whether editorials here praise the Chileans for their change of heart about the political prisoners and their bold scheme for getting leftists of the world to put up or shut up, remains to be seen. But don't hold your breath.

State News Roundup

Gov. Dan Walker and his wife Roberta last week sealed a collection of papers and objects gathered during the 1976 Bicentennial year into a time capsule to be opened in 2076.

During ceremonies on Illinois Statehood Day, Dec. 3, Walker dedicated the time capsule.

"I am confident that the values and traditions that have carried forth these 200 years will see our nation through its third century," Walker said.

SWINE FLU - Over 600,000 doses of swine flu vaccine have been administered in Illinois so far, according to the state department of public health.

Phase I of the immunization program, for persons 60 years of age or older and the chronically ill, has been completed in 50 Illinois counties and is presently being implemented in the remaining 52 counties.

Phase II of the immunization program, for the general public, has been completed in nine counties and is underway in 16 additional counties.

LICENSE PLATE WARNING - Illinois drivers who remove their 1976 license plates and replace them with 1977 plates are advised to take care of the old plates.

These should be destroyed or kept in a safe place, so they are not used illegally by another driver.

The 1977 license plates are now on sale at 1,100 Illinois financial institutions, including the State Bank of Antioch.

Abolish Electoral College

It's about time a change was made in the way we elect our Presidents.

Our Congressman, Robert McClory, plans to introduce legislation in the 95th Congress to abolish the electoral college.

The McClory resolution needs approval by two-thirds of the members of the U.S. House and Senate, then ratification by three-fourths (38) of the states.

"When the founding fathers set up the electoral college, they meant to shield the people from their own ignorance by giving the final choice to an elite group of members of the Electoral College," McClory said.

BUT THE ORIGINAL CONCEPT has been discarded. Today, voters are not even aware of the identity of the electors for whom they are voting. The possibility of electing a minority President poses a potentially serious problem.

Under the McClory resolution, Presidents would be elected by a direct popular vote, with a minimum of 40 percent required to take office. If no candidate received 40 percent - as might be the case where there is a strong third-party candidate - a run-off election between the two top candidates would be required.

Three 19th century Presidents - John Quincy Adams, Rutherford B. Hayes, and Benjamin Harrison - were elected with fewer popular votes than their major opponent.

Under existing law, state legislatures choose a number of electors equal to the total number of a state's Senators and Representatives (Three is the minimum number.)

Electors generally vote as a unit for the candidate who wins a majority in their state, but are not legally bound to do so in most states. This freedom results from the founding fathers' desire to keep electors independent of pressure from state legislatures.

As recently as 1968, a North Carolina Republican elector broke ranks with his state's Republican colleagues to cast his ballot for George Wallace - the American Independent Party candidate.

All Constitutional Amendments are considered by the congressional judiciary committees. McClory, as the ranking Republican member of the House Judiciary Committee, is in a strong position to promote this Constitutional change.

Is TM Free From Religion?

To the Editor:

Your apparent lack of knowledge of the subject of your attack on Transcendental Meditation in your article of Dec. 1 is appalling and unfortunately lowers the dignity of The Antioch News.

The assumption that TM has religious undertones and is opposed to Christianity is entirely erroneous, and to support this claim with vague references and innuendoes is inexcusable.

I feel it would be to your own benefit to be more knowledgeable on a technique that is being practiced by almost a million people in this country alone and by nearly two percent of the population of Antioch.

TRANSCENDENTAL MEDITATION is a mental technique which makes the mind more orderly, gives the body deep rest, and improves the coordination between the two. It requires no belief or philosophy or dogma and is affiliated with no religion whatsoever.

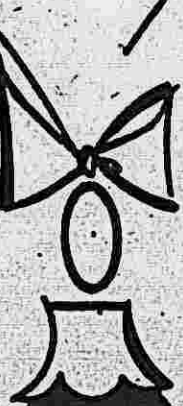

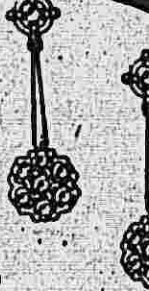

For these reasons TM does not conflict with the teachings or beliefs of any church. As a matter of fact, because of the deep rest and relaxation achieved thru the practice of TM stresses are

DID YOU HAPPEN to watch the WMAQ-TV news Monday evening? Oakwood Knolls resident Richard Tragasz and his son Roger were interviewed and filmed last Saturday at Chain O'Lakes State Park for a pheasant-hunting feature.

The duo had been hunting there last week, so park personnel figured they would be great for the segment.

Speech Contest Announced

The 10th District Council (Lake County) of The American Legion announces the 40th annual national high school oratorical contest.

Prizes will be offered up to an $8,000 college scholarship. The district contest offers the winner a gold medal, a chance to compete for the scholarships, and a 21-inch gold trophy.

The oration is judged primarily on content, with 70 points being given for content and 30 points for speaking skills. These point assignments make it possible for students who are not skilled speakers to win.

The contestant is to deliver a memorized oration on some phase of the Constitution of the United States of America which will give emphasis to the attendant duties, obligations and privileges of a citizen of our government. Also required is an extemporaneous discourse where the contestant delivers a three to five minute speech on one of six listed topics to be randomly drawn at the site of the contest.

Each high school in Lake County may have one contestant in the district contest. The school contest must be completed on or prior to February 4, 1977.

Any students wishing to enter should contact their school superintendent, principal, English or history or speech department chairman. Additional information can be obtained from local American Legion Post commanders, Americanism chairmen and Auxiliary Americanism chairladies.

Smoke Detectors Given OK

The National Fire Prevention & Control Administration and the National Bureau of Standards, both agencies of the U.S. Dept. of Commerce, support the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's (NRC) determination that radiation from ionization smoke detectors represents a negligible exposure level.

According to the (NRC), radiation exposure from the ionization detector is far below the normal radiation a person receives each day from the sun.

The NRC says that if a person stands within 10 in. of an ionization detector for eight hours a day, every day of the year, the annual radiation exposure would be less than 0.5 millirems. For comparison purposes, normal background radiation exposure from natural sources is approximately 100 times greater per year.

A person flying round-trip across the United States receives about 5 millirems because of the increased radiation at high altitudes. This is 10 times greater than the exposure you would receive by holding the detector next to you eight hours a day for the entire year.

Consumer's Union, an independent testing laboratory, conducted a study of the radiation problem in ionization detectors. Its conclusion: "Radioactive! Don't worry ... we checked the surface of each assembled unit with a Geiger counter and could not detect any radiation beyond ordinary background radiation."

The NRC has conducted studies of the potential dispersal of radioactive material from a fire in a warehouse where a manufacturer would store hundreds of detectors. The studies show that the potential dispersal in the fire situation would be negligible and would present no radiation hazards to firefighters or cleanup crews.

"Instances have been brought to our attention where people either did not purchase a smoke detector or removed in-place detectors from their homes out of fear of radiation," said Howard D. Tipton, NFPCA Administrator. "While the risk of radiation from the smoke detector is negligible, the risks of failing to purchase a detector, or of removing one already installed, are very real."

"Of the 12,000 persons who die from smoke and fire each year," he continued, "and of the 300,000 persons who are seriously injured, the great majority fall victims at home at night. Smoke overcomes them before they can awaken and escape. Where people are not protected by smoke detectors, the likelihood of fire-deaths and injuries is increased."

Antioch Fire Chief Tod Mapleshorpe encourages residents to install smoke detectors and devise and practice a home escape plan. He adds that the Building Officials Conference of America (BOCA) code requires that detectors be installed in all new homes.

CLC News

The memory of a Lake County journalist will be kept alive in a memorial scholarship at the College of Lake County. The Lake County Association of Journalists (LCAJ) has instituted a scholarship in memory of Doreen Copeland, who died of cancer in 1973 at the age of 37.

A native of England, Mrs. Copeland worked for WKRS Radio in Waukegan and was a feature writer for the Waukegan News-Sun at the time of her death. She was actively involved in the Head Start program, United Community Services, and taught a course in the North Chicago High School Adult Evening program.

The scholarship will be administered by the CLC Financial Aids office and the LCAJ.

Man doesn't live by bread alone. Many get by on crust.

Area Students Named State Scholars

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission has named 10,058 students as Illinois State Scholars in the 1977-78 competitive Illinois State Scholar Program.

High school academic record and examination scores are used in the selection process. The scholars represent nearly every high school in the state and were chosen from the 30,312 students who entered the competition by taking either the Apr. 10 or June 12, 1976, examination administered by the American College Testing Program (ACT).

All State Scholars received a certificate of merit and may qualify for monetary assistance through the monetary award program of the commission.

For the 1976-77 academic year, approximately 91,000 undergraduate students are being assisted with nearly $69.1 million in monetary awards.

Antioch scholars are: Susan L. Amundsen, Elizabeth M. Benes, Richard L. Dauck, William L. Harland, Kim K. Herbst, Patrick A. Houghton, Peter J. James, Kimberly J. Korando, Timothy P. Learmont, Kathy J. Long, Robert G. Parsons and Joanna L. Vasek.

Scholars from Lake Villa are: Michael A. Goiski, William T. Hurdle, Andrew A. Jermolowicz, Diane A. Johnson, Anne M. Lorang, Cheri L. Matteoni, James H. Perlstrom, Anne E. Seisser, and Thomas J. Sullivan.

Singing Group At ACHS

"Good News" is on its way to Lake County, scheduled to arrive at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Dec. 13, in the auditorium of Antioch Community high school.

It will be brought to the area by six young men and one woman who play and sing contemporary music in folk-rock style.

The group is the "Good News Circle" from Niles, Mich. Bob Laurent, president and spokesman for the Good News Circle, formed the team while in college. In the past five years they have sung throughout the country in school assemblies, camps, conventions, rallies, churches, and have recorded four albums. Bob has authored two books.

Teentopia, the youth division of Calvary Temple, Lake Villa, is the sponsoring agency. Admission is free; however, an offering will be taken to help meet the expenses of the group.

Tickets are being handed out in several area schools, and any teen with a ticket may sit in the special roped-off section, reserved until 7:15 p.m., when all empty seats will be filled.

For further information or tickets, call Bob West at 356-8180 after 4 p.m. weekdays.

Chain o' Lakes Commission

assumed that a state permit called a 404 application package was its only means to begin work.

It submitted such an application, which has been reviewed by the army corps of engineers, and has been awaiting an answer for approximately one month.

A 404 permit is not easily acquired, due in part to stringent U.S. Dept. of Sports, Fisheries and Wildlife input.

However, the commission need not secure a 404 permit, if it can meet three requirements: "upland" disposal sites higher than 737.1 ft., protection of wetland vegetation, and run-off into the Chain of no more than one cubic yard of suspended solid (silt) per disposal site.

AS CAN BE EXPECTED, the commission had many questions following Vonnahme's report; however, he had to return to Springfield immediately.

Commission chairman William E. Brook designated a subcommittee to meet with the division of water resources in the capital next week. Subcommittee members are: the four state representatives (John Matijevich, Donald Deuster, Thomas Hanahan and Cal Skinner) and four state senators (Karl Berning, Jack Schaefer, William Morris and Norbert Kosinski).

The 100,000 yards of dredging is expected to take about two months. At its October meeting, the commission had tentatively scheduled it for next summer, probably June and July.

Knolls Set for Holidays

By JEANNIE LIPMAN

Santa will be making his rounds in Oakwood Knolls on Saturday, Dec. 18. Call Santa's helper, Elaine Weber, at 395-2406 to be sure you are on his list of good little boys and girls. Saturday, Dec. 11, is the deadline to reserve your visit.

OPEN TO ASSOCIATION members is the annual outdoor home Christmas decorating contest. Judges will be touring the community from Dec. 12 till Dec. 18. Final judging will be Dec. 21. Three cash prizes will be awarded for the homes displaying the most Christmas spirit.

One year ago, Nov. 29, Mrs. Shelby Wais took her children, Jimmy and Wendy to Santa's arrival in town. Soon afterwards, Shelby went to the hospital to give birth to her third child, John.

To celebrate little John's first birthday, Mrs. Wais took a birthday cake uptown and Santa helped John blow out his first candle. Lucky John had two other birthday parties. In addition to mom and dad, and Jimmy and Wendy, many relatives were on hand to celebrate John's first year, including Antioch residents, Grandma and Grandpa Frank Wais and Grandma and Grandpa Dean Bradley.

Happy first birthday, John!

THOUGH IT'S NOT their first, Ann Phillips (Dec. 10), Laura McKee (Dec. 10) and Chris Odden (Dec. 12) are celebrating birthdays this week. Happy Birthday, you three.

We welcome Mrs. Ann Leonhart who moved into her new home on Nov. 29. Already familiar with the Knolls, she moved next door to her son and daughter-in-law, Joe and Jeannine. We wish you much happiness here, Ann.

Thanksgiving dinner was not only a big feast but a big gathering at the Arnold Weber home. Mabel Lou Weber was hostess to Judy and George Phillips and their children, Steve, Mark and Ann, and her son, Bill, who came "home" for the holidays with his wife, Rudy. They live in Portage, Wis. Her nephew, Dale and his wife, Jeannine Heuer also made it to the Webers for the holiday dinner. Dale is a medical student at Northwestern University.

In addition to everything else, they had the hospitality of the Webers to be thankful for.

CONGRATUALIONS TO Judy Larson who cooked her first turkey!

Don't forget the Christmas caroling on Wednesday, Dec. 15, at 6:30 p.m. Call Elaine Weber at 395-2406 for more information.

When is your birthday? A calendar is now being made for 1977. Call and give us the important dates and we'll be sure to remember you on your special day.

What a nice way to remember a friend and neighbor - let him read a personal birthday or anniversary wish in the Oakwood Knolls column of the Antioch News. Call 395-6597.

Local Bowlers Try To Beat Champs

This week, through Saturday, the "Beat the Champion" contest is underway at the Antioch Bowling Lanes.

Adult league bowlers, using their league scores during the week, can compete against scores to be shot in a special match by the ABC Masters champion, Nelson Burton Jr., and the WIBC Queens champion, Pam Rutherford.

The league bowlers averages must be based on at least 12 games.

Each bowler pays 50c to enter the contest. He or she can enter as many times as they bowl in a league during the contest week.

Last year, Antioch Bowling Lanes had 1,028 entries. The lanes portion of the charitable money is presented to the Antioch Volunteer Fire Department, Antioch Rescue Squad and Antioch Little League.

Joe Jozaitis, Walter N. Hills, Yvonne Dyer and Carole Dewar went on to the sectional rollofs last year.

Celtics Win Intramurals At ACHS

Antioch High School has finished a four-week intramural basketball program, open to male students.

Some 28 young men signed up, with an average of 21 playing each day the program was scheduled.

There were four teams, with the Celtics winning the title with 5-1 record.

Members of the Celtics team were Pat Sikorski, Todd Caulter, Peter James, Bill Dubek, Matt Warner and Mike Pocrnich. The Celtics, also, won the playoffs, beating the Nets in the championship game.

ANTIOCH BOWLING LANES' co-owner, Marty Padjen, last weekend awarded money to (from right to left) J. Irving Walsh, accepting for the fire department; Jim Fields, for the rescue squad, and Milo Bailey, for the Little League baseball program. The money came from the bowling lanes' annual "Beat the Champs" contest.

released from the nervous system and many people find that all areas of their lives improve due to the lessening of inner tension produced, including an improvement in many peoples' religious practice.

YOU MAY ALSO be interested to hear what members of organized religion have to say on the subject:

Rev. Karl E. Lutze
Ordained Lutheran clergyman
Theology Professor at Valparaiso University
"I do not find the Transcendental Meditation program an alternative to Christian faith; I practice it within the context of my Christian life. Nor does my calling upon the exercise of the TM technique imply that my Christian faith or religion is inadequate, any more than my efforts to get enough sleep, proper diet, exercise and recreation would imply an inadequacy in my religion."

Rev. Leo McAllister
Catholic priest
Pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, Sacramento, Calif., and for the past six years chaplain to the assembly, California state legislature.

"It is not a religion or a religious practice. It in no way conflicts with a person's belief in God or in his church."

Rabbi Raphael Levine
Rabbi Emeritus of Temple De Hirsh Sinai
Seattle, Wash.

"The TM program is not a religion. It has nothing to do with religion except as the easiest technique I have yet discovered for making religion become more alive, more meaningful..." It would seem that some notable clergymen are in direct opposition to your article. To claim that TM is based in Hindu thought because it originated in India or is linked to the Vedas indicates a fundamental lack of understanding of what the Vedas are.

Truly, it is like claiming that the fact that the earth is round is a Catholic concept because it was discovered by Galileo who was Italian, and Italy is a Catholic country.

The "I Found It" campaign is laudable in its effort to get people to return to a lifestyle based on the morality expounded by Jesus Christ. However, proponents of the campaign, such as yourself, should, in my opinion, exhibit that same morality.

I am sure that Christ's Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," doesn't mean it is acceptable to attack one movement with unsubstantiated evidence in order to advance the cause of His church. On the contrary I would think.

Yours very truly,
Ralph H. Antonelli
390 Edgewood Drive
Antioch, Ill.

(Editor's note: We suggest that Mr. Antonelli and others claiming we "attacked" TM reread the article. Many people, including the university researchers we quoted, maintain that the movement's claim that it is free from religion is questionable. And if it is questionable, then it should be reconsidered by school personnel making curriculum decisions. As a matter of clarification, the "I Found It" campaign is confronting people with Jesus' offer of forgiveness and a new start. The "new life in Christ" is not merely a lifestyle: it is a changed relationship to God.)

Sequoits Were Superb in First Victory

By MIKE WITT

SLOPPY, UNDISCIPLINED - those were the attributes of the Antioch Sequoits last Friday night at Warren as they suffered their fourth consecutive loss of the season 49-40.

But Saturday night a different team filling Antioch uniforms showed up to open its home schedule.

And this team showed some real class as it bounced back to beat a fine Lake Forest team 71-69 in overtime to record its first victory of the young 1976-77 season.

ANTIOCH WILL ENTERTAIN Round Lake Friday night at about 8 o'clock as both teams seek their first conference victim.

Round Lake is led by 6-5 senior Lee Neer who recorded a 40 point performance against Harvard in the Panthers' only win, 100-82. He had 18 points in an opening conference defeat to Grant, 48-46.

Round Lake lost to Carmel last Saturday night, 67-56, after enjoying a 49-49 tie entering the final quarter. Neer scored 21 points for Round Lake.

A team has to play ball at both ends of the court to win and, against Warren, the Sequoits played at only one end. Surprisingly it was at the defensive end they excelled, but it was bad news on offense.

"WE FIGURE ANYTIME you hold a team under 50 points, you should win," commented Coach Roger Andrews.

But the Sequoits had their trouble getting the ball in the hoop, and the second quarter was a good example.

The team turned the ball over 7 times, missed 6 free throws, and shot 3 of 13 from the field - all in the second quarter.

As far as Andrews was concerned, this was the turning point of the game.

"WE STOPPED THEM cold (Warren scored only eight points in this stanza) and we could have taken a 10 point lead into the locker room, but instead we were down 24-21," the coach said.

Tim Huebner sank 13 points, and was supported by Tracy Sodman and Bill Dubek, each with 11 points.

A poor 10 for 21 charity throw exhibition killed a chance to squeak out a victory.

If inexperience could be attributed to Friday night's poor excuse of basketball, then those lads from Antioch matured an awful amount overnight.

The thrilling 71-69 overtime conquest was based on poise, patience and perhaps a bit of confidence that was missing before.

Lake Forest had a great opportunity to win the game, but it failed on a free throw attempt and the rebound shot to end the regulation time with a 64-64 tie.

BRIAN ANDREWS OPENED the overtime scoring with a great move down the lane, but Lake Forest star Tom Trkla answered to make it 66-66.

With 44 seconds remaining, Tracy Sodman converted on a gifter, and seconds later Tim Customer Service: No, sir, I don't believe we've ever met.

Customer Service: Your car backed into the pole, and then... what?

Customer Service: Do I speak Spanish? Muchacha, soy la mejor representante en Chicago sur!

Customer Service: No, ma'am, I'm not a recording.

Customer Service: Ah, er, Mr. Edison isn't in right now!

At Commonwealth Edison, our Customer Service telephones ring over 15,000 times a day. Most of the time, it's customers like you with questions about their electric service—questions we're happy to answer. Of course, we get complaints now and then. And some strange requests. But we get our compliments, too. Along with an occasional wrong number.

An average call? There's really no such thing. So our only guideline is to be efficient and courteous. Because even though our phone never seems to stop ringing, it still boils down to one person talking to another.

Experts Collect in Basketball Contest

Antioch's Sequoits fooled most of the hometown experts when they upset Lake Forest by two points in last Saturday's basketball game here.

Among the many entrants in the Antioch News' weekly basketball contest, only three had the game figured almost perfectly.

Picking Antioch to win by three points were Tom Gutowski, Jim Bucar and George Keulman.

Tom and Jim also tied in the tie-breaker, so they will share first and second place prizes. Each will receive a $7.50 gift certificate from King's Drugs and a $5 gift certificate from Swan's Liquors.

George wins third prize, a $5 gift certificate from BJ's Fashions for Men or BJ's Closet.

THREE OTHERS CAME close last week, picking Antioch to beat Lake Forest by five points. They were Gary Doolittle, Marilyn Sterbenz and Rodger Kruse.

Another contest appears in today's Antioch News. As usual, $30 worth of prizes await the best forecasters.

Entries must be at our office, or postmarked, prior to Friday night's 8 o'clock game against Round Lake here.

THE U.S. ARMY PACKS A LOT MORE POWER IN ITS M-60 TANKS... 750 HORSES IN FACT. THE BIG ARMORED NUMBER WEIGHS OVER 50 TONS, BUT CAN REACH SPEEDS OF 40 MPH!

Letter from Washington

by Senator Charles H. Percy

With the elections now behind us, America must begin the task of meeting the challenges of the future. We have the opportunity of a new start—a chance to tackle our problems with fresh solutions.

This new chapter in American history opens with the stark reality that our country's current problems have not miraculously disappeared. A number of pressing problems will confront the 95th Congress when it opens next January. Ranging from foreign to domestic issues, many of these long-neglected problems need immediate attention.

The economy will continue to be a dominant issue in the months ahead. A balanced federal budget would significantly help check the spiraling rate of inflation. President-elect Carter has promised to balance the budget by the end of his first term in office. With the new Congressional budget process, this goal could be met as early as 1978. But it never will be reached if the Democratic Congress and the Carter Administration try to fulfill all the pledges made in the Democratic platform. Before adopting any new programs, Congress must carefully assess how additional federal spending will affect the economy. The federal government can no longer afford to feed the fires of inflation.

Energy shortages, our growing dependency on foreign energy sources and possible price increases by exporting countries within the next few months will again dramatize the need for a comprehensive national policy for energy conservation and development. I intend to introduce legislation which will call for the formation of a White House energy policy council to develop a detailed program. The bill will also propose consolidating and reorganizing the various federal agencies that deal with energy matters.

Regulatory reform legislation also must be a priority in the next Congress. Last year a study by the General Accounting Office determined that over-regulation costs our nation $60 billion a year. We cannot afford to continue burdening American businesses with unnecessary expenses that result in inflated prices for customers. I plan to reintroduce legislation that will establish a rigid timetable for comprehensive reform of the federal regulatory system. The bill will set deadline dates for Congressional reassessment and reauthorization of various regulating agencies. If Congress fails to act before the specified date, the agencies will lose their power and authority to exist.

Urban problems of high unemployment, poor public transportation systems, rising crime rates and inadequate housing contribute to the deterioration of our cities. Steps must be taken to encourage industries to reinvest and create new job opportunities in cities. Several Illinois communities facing "old age" have successfully avoided economic decline by strengthening and revitalizing their neighborhoods and local businesses. These success stories should be models for a national program.

Medicare and Medicaid, our only national health insurance programs, are riddled with fraud and abuse even though they were established to meet the health care needs of a relatively small segment of our population. Before Congress moves to adopt a broad national health insurance program, steps must be taken to reform the administrative programs.

Sequoits Surprise Lake Forest

Huebner calmly swished two more to put Antioch up by three at 69-66.

Trkla scored a free throw (69-67) and intentionally missed the second, but Sodman grabbed the carom and was fouled with seven seconds remaining.

As in the manner of how the whole team performed all night, Sodman responded to the situation in perfect fashion to give his team a three point lead, 71-67.

A meaningless basket scored again by Trkla made the final score 71-69.

Trkla finished as the game's top scorer with 28 points, but Antioch's juniors did their share of sharpshooting, too. Dubek poured in 24 points, Tim Huebner 16, Andrews 13 and Sodman nine, including five of six free throw chances.

THIS GAME WAS a superb example of a team effort.

Brian Andrews, along with Dennis Korjenek, handled Lake Forest's changing defenses like seasoned veterans. Andrews scored on some fine moves, and really helped control the tempo of the game.

Korjenek was all over the place. He picked up the team upon his entry into the game by hitting on a couple of shots, and he handled the ball very well. He, along with Andrews, ran the offense well and got the ball down inside on fine passing.

Tim Huebner and Bill Dubek showed real talent on offense. Dubek scored several times on long shots, and once made an incredible shot from behind the backboard with a rival's hand in his face.

HUEBNER PROVED real tough inside by taking the ball to the basket, and hitting on fine pivot shooting amid a lot of body contact.

Sodman and Tom Huebner made the night frustrating for Trkla. Even though he scored points, he worked hard for most of them. He was hounded, sealed off from the boards, and limited to one shot.

The Antioch team also played the entire overtime without Dubek who had fouled out.

The victory capped a perfect night. The sophs won an exciting game under its new soph coach, Don Zeman, and even the band and pom-pom show at halftime was good.

Andrews stated, "I'm really happy for the boys. They were getting so frustrated. (They're not used to losing.) The team really came of age tonight, and if this performance can be continued - they will have a real bright season ahead."

Saturday night they certainly didn't play like a 04 team.
